Greetings, parents and leaders. It's August. School has and is starting back up all around the county as our students begin to settle into a new school year. For a lot of you, your student is starting middle school, high school, and even college. Lots of change. So I want to give a special welcome to our new parents who have a student starting middle school. Welcome! We would be very short sighted if we only disciplined and equipped students; and not you the parent. YOU are your students greatest influence on discipleship. Yes, believe it or not despite how little you may think your inaction is weighty, they are zeroed on you. Therefore, this ministry should be geared more to equipping you (Eph 4:11-14) in your discipleship and the discipleship of your student. So all of this to say, we want to be here for you. This parent newsletter is a monthly connection from me to you. I hope that you will read this each month and that it will be a valuable resource for you. So please know, we are here for you. We are praying for you. We are rooting you on. Do not hesitate to ask if you need anything or have any questions. We are excited to have you join us and we look forward in getting to know your student.

I am ready for this new year in seeing how God will glorify Himself in our students. I have such high and great hope for them as we all have much glorious work to do together. Wednesday, August 12 is a big night for us as is each year. This is Promotion Wednesday and Family Night; and I invite you to be apart of this evening celebrating last year, looking forward to our new year, and welcoming our new students and parents. Please plan on joining us.

Last note, I have decided to take 'Rock-the-Universe' off the calendar for this year. It seems not to be wise at this time to go on this type of trip. I apologize for the disappointment to you and your student(s).

Grace and peace to you this August. I pray that you and your family will lean-in more to the life to life gospel (2 Corinthians 2:14-16).

In Christ,
Pastor Ben Roberts
